Participatory Research and Practice Innovation

Practice worksheet | SWP-034

Use this de-identified learning activity after completing the three modules. Record only what is necessary for your learning. Do not include client, family, patient, student, or colleague names.

Practice notice: Apply the law, organisational policy, supervision requirements, and approved referral pathways that govern your setting. This material supports learning and does not replace urgent safeguarding, clinical, or legal procedures.

Practice scenario

You are supporting a person, family, group, or community that needs help related to participatory research and practice innovation. The situation contains incomplete information, competing priorities, and at least one issue that may need advice from a supervisor or partner service.

Activity instructions

- Work through the modules in order and use the questions below to organise your response.
- Distinguish information you know from information you need to verify.
- Identify the immediate action that sits within your role and any decision that needs escalation.
- Use your local policy and referral information before applying this activity in practice.

1. What matters now

What information, strengths, risks, and priorities would you consider when approaching practice questions and meaningful participation?

Response

2. Safe and collaborative response

How would you apply ethical inquiry and interpretation while communicating respectfully and within your scope?

Response

3. Coordination and follow-up

What documentation, review point, consultation, referral, or handover would be appropriate when applying responsible innovation and learning?

Response

4. Reflection

What assumption did you need to test, and how would you check it without causing harm or excluding the person's voice?

Response

Self-check before submission

- My response uses de-identified information.
- I have separated observations from assumptions.
- I have named the action within my role and the action that needs consultation or escalation.
- I have considered equity, dignity, participation, and confidentiality.
